

Circus

The Hellacopters

I was watching the man on the tightrope
He was doing his best to stay up
He was swaying from side to side
And the crowd around him cried

And the nails of the lady beside me
Were digging into my skin
And her breathing was becoming excited
As they let the lions in
She said

Fall, why don't you fall for me now?
Fall, why don't you fall for me now?
Fall, why don't you fall for me now?

With the smell of the beast in my nostrils
And a look of pure fear in my eye
The king of the jungle came forward
And the crowd began to sigh

And the lady who'd been sitting beside me
Was lying upon the ground
And the clown who was riding my cycle
Was going around and around
He said

Fall, why don't you fall for my now?
Fall, why don't you fall for me now?
Fall, why don't you fall for me now?

Come on and take me to the circus
I wanna see the lion
I wanna see the tiger
I wanna see the chimpanzee
The chimpanzee wanna see me (all right)
Take me to the circus
Come on and take me to the circus
Take me to the circus

You know I'm going home to my Marla
And listen to some String Driven Thing
I've had enough peaks in the circus
And none of them are in the ring

You know I'm going home to my Marla
And hang on to her apron strings
I've had enough of life in the circus
With animals and everything
She said

Fall, why don't you fall for me now?
Fall, why don't you fall for me now?
Fall, why don't you fall for me now?

Come on and take me to the circus
I wanna see the lion
I wanna see the tiger

I wanna see the chimpanzee
The chimpanzee wants to see me (oh yeah)
Take me to the circus (come on and)
Take me to the circus
Take me to the circus
