

So Sorry I Could Die

The Hellacopters

Cold, bleak and growing
And the air is stale
I can see where this is going
Well, you left behind a trail
Of grief and trouble
Oh, I should have seen the signs
But don't make it double
No, your burdens aren't mine

I can hear you whisper
Nigh on mumbling my name
Barely spoken yet staking your claim
Well, I'm sorry, well, I'm sorry
But I won't apologize, no
I just want you to know that I'm sorry
So sorry I could die

I hear you crying and I feel for you
But you know that I'm tryin' to carry my burden too
Ooh, I'm so sorry, sorry all the time
Yeah, I'm sorry, so sorry I could die

I can hear you whisper
Nigh on mumbling my name
Barely spoken yet staking your claim
Well, I'm sorry, so sorry
But I won't apologize, no
I just want you to know that I'm sorry
So sorry I could die

I'm so sorry
I'm so sorry I could die

I can hear you whisper
Nigh on mumbling my name
Barely spoken yet staking your claim
Well, I'm sorry, so sorry
But I won't apologize, no
I just want you to know that I'm sorry
So sorry I could die
I could die