

Lovers In My Head

The Hoosiers

I need a second opinion,
I want you cross-examined.
Where there's a whill, there's a way,
And there's a will alright.

I close my eyes and count to ten,
And when I open them again,
I want you to pretend that when
You said no, you didn't say a word.
Cos it's easier.

We're lovers in my heart,
We're lovers in my soul,
I disregard what you said,
So close your eyes and watch the stars glow.

I like the face that is hanging
From your pretty little head,
I like the way that it's body
Lies on my bed.

I've not met him but he's handsome,
I'm sure you've made the perfect choice.
I go to tell you I love you,
But I lost my voice and couldn't say a word.
Cos it's easier.

Love flew away,
Love flew away from me,
Love flew away,
Love flew away,
