

Encounter

The Idoru

but down here i am the one encounter! i feel alone in the crowd , but not with you here and now. the street of mine you entered is a dead end for the black-hearted ones. few simple words with all meanings we need are waiting. our message is just as ever lasting as human ignorance is endless. im armoured by values can nt be bought, cant be stolen. now im ready to turn against the worthlessness. the world up there plays on powerlessness. i jus t ranged till now searching for reasons to stay alive. i have a lways found breathless things that passed me by, and walked on by. i can see through superficial madness that drives everyone to sadness encounter(here i am reborn)encounter. but down here i am the one encounter! (reborn in truth and love, there is no pretented gladness)
