

Shelter Of Empty Souls

The Idoru

i see right through your speech and wont rise to the fly. cant have me signed up to fight any wars by your side. gaining more and more keeps you alive, maybe once you'll be able to buy any lives. what will you do with all you've got? get your hands on more! i cannot get the point what this is good for. you play up on the sanctity of betrayed souls. show them your handmade pit and convince them to fall! you dont feel guilty, just rush for your gold. this is a shelter made for the empty souls i set my heart on giving something that's coming from the source, and show other ways to find what worth more than your gold. today you represent the truth, tomorrow you'll laugh on the naives' poorness. you give your hand showing that you're so trusted. what will you do with all you've got? get your hands on more! i can't get the point what this is good for. i set my heart on giving something that's coming from the source, and show other ways to find what worth more than your gold.
