

See The Real Me

The Impressions

See me, see me
Can you see, the real me huh
I don't deserve you, deserve you
Look through me, and you'll see
A sinner my dear

But I just have to confess now
Even though you've, done your best now
I have ruined your, happiness now
And I'm ashamed, can you forgive me, yeah

Now if there's some place in your heart
Where we might start anew
You won't believe these things I say
But I would never go astray
And if you took me back I'd display
The true real me