Hard Line

The Infamous Stringdusters

Tell me what you're thinking, what is on your mind
Tell me what's the reason for drawing such a hard, hard line
Tell me what it gets you, and is it worth the cost
What have you won, what have you lost

I sit here and listen to the tone of what you say
Sounds like your defenses are only getting in your way
Everything is coming from a crooked point of view
The truth can't be just what you choose

Is there some kind of way we can talk it out
And head for higher ground
Find our way out of the flood of lies
Before we both drown
Or will it all come crashing down

Let's all have a conversation across the great divide
Listen to the voices coming from the other side
Don't give up believing in what you think is right
Let's all help someone else to see the light

Is there some kind of way we can talk it out
And head for higher ground
Find our way out of the flood of lies
Before we both drown
Or will it all come crashing down

Is there some kind of way we can talk it out
And head for higher ground
Find our way out of the flood of lies
Before we both drown
Or will it all come crashing down
Or will it all come crashing down
Or will it all come crashing down
