

I Believe

The Infamous Stringdusters

We don't have much in common
You and me, mmm
But that's alright
We'll never see eye to eye on everything
But we can try
I'm from the middle of nowhere, Tennessee
Where there's a cross at every turn
You're on the other side of the world
You're tryin' to survive
While cities burn
I'm not sure I'll ever know that kind of hurt

They say black, white, left and right
But I believe somewhere in between
We're all sisters and brothers
If we love one another
Then it's all not just a dream
We can live and die in harmony
It's that easy
That's what I believe

I've never spent one single night
Out on the street
I guess I've never gone more than a day
Without somethin' to eat
The truth is I've been blessed
With so much more than I deserve
But tell me, my friends
What's it all really worth?
You'll never have enough if you ain't got love

But I believe somewhere in between
We're all sisters and brothers
If we love one another
Then it's all not just a dream
We can live and die in harmony
It's that easy
That's what I believe

We can live and die in harmony
It's that easy
That's what I believe
