

Capitalism Stole My Virginity

The (International) Noise Conspiracy

Nowhere is untouched by the shame
Who said we could get by with our childhood games?
Days of innocence are all long gone
Avoid the shock honey and try to live on
Woke up all paralyzed all dreams corrupted in front of our eyes
And on every forehead of every little whore
There is a sign that says: baby don't come back no more

Distasteful ugly and cheap
That is how you make me feel
Capitalism stole my virginity

Robbed out of our bleeding hearts
Smashed our illusions tore them all apart
But now we are unsentimental and unafraid
To destroy this culture that we hate
So tired of being nothing when we should be everything
And on every forehead of every little whore
There is a sign that says: baby we are all born to die

Distasteful ugly and cheap
That is how you make me feel
Capitalism stole my virginity

We're all sluts, cheap products in someone else's notebook

Distasteful ugly and cheap
That is how you make me feel
Capitalism stole my virginity
