

Mick Maguire

The Irish Rovers

Me name is Mick Maguire and I'll quickly tell to you
Of a young girl I admired one Katie Donoghue She was fair and fat and forty and believe me when I say Whenever I'd come in at the door you could hear her mother say

Johnny get up from the fire get up and give your man a seat
Can't you see it's Mick Maguire and he's courtin' your sister Kate
You know very well he owns a farm a wee bit out of the town
Ah get out of that ya impudent brat and let Mister
Maguire sit down

Well the first time I met her was at a dance in Donnahadee
I very kindly ask her would she dance a step with me I asked if I could see her home if she'd be going my way
But whenever I'd come in at the door you could hear the ould one say

Johnny get up from the fire get up and give your man a
seat
Can't you see it's Mick Maguire and he's courtin' your
sister Kate
You know very well he owns a farm a wee bit out of the
town
Ah get out of that ya impudent brat and let Mister
Maguire sit down

But now that we are married her mammy's changed her mind
Just because I spent the money that me daddy left behind
Now she hasn't got the decency to give me time of the day And whenever I'd come in at the door you could hear her mammy say

Johnny come up to the fire come you're sitting in the draft Can't you see it's ould Maguire and he nearly drives me daft Sure I don't know what gets in him and he's always on the tear
So sit where you are and never you dare, give ould Maguire the chair