Good Long Time

The Jayhawks

Everybody's talking about my baby They say she's half blind Everybody's talking about my baby They say she's half blind

It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
And still this heartache lingers on

I miss you in dreams I do remember Dark shadows drift across my room I miss you in dreams I do remember Dark shadows drift across my room

It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
And still this heartache lingers on
(2x)

I miss you in dreams I do remember Dark shadows drift across my room I miss you in dreams I do remember Dark shadows drift across my room

It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
And still this heartache lingers on

And still this heartache lingers on And on and on and on And still this heartache lingers on

You keep roll it on out, keep rolling, rolling on Yeah, you keep roll it on out, keep rolling, rolling on And still this heartache lingers on

And now I'm long gone
It's been a good long time
And now I'm long gone
