

The Damage Is Done

The Jeff Healey Band

When your world is cold
And your day seem to drag on, forever
Feel like your soul were sold
For nothing, for nothing and you
Never, felt such loneliness, or emptiness
And your old friends are so hard to face
That's when you come to me
You come to me, when you need a safe embrace
And like a fool I give it up for you
There's nothing else I can do
If it make's it feel better
Then tell me, tell me more lies
If it make's it feel better
Then use me for love in disguise
If it make's it feel better
When you lost your way
And you're tired, of what you've become
An empty shell, where nothing dwells
And you're dyin', feeling numb
You decide that you'll call on me
'Cause you know I'm always free
If it make's it feel better
Then tell me, tell me more lies
If it make's it feel better
Then use me for love in disguise
If it make's it feel better
Oh you know you burned me many times before
Still I come back for more
If it make's it feel better
Come on tell me, tell me more lies
If it make's it feel better
You can use me for love in disguise
If it make's it feel better, better, better, better
Yeah, if it make's it feel better
