Blame It on Me

The John Butler Trio

Blame it on me, yeah. Blame it on me. (4x)

Here's a trip for the new folk, coming down the line Being born in these heavy, these heavy times I know it ain't perfect, but it gonna have to do This the world you inherit, it is up to you

You know it's up to you, yeah.

There comes a time, when you gonna reap what you been sowing And all the shit that they fight about it overflowing And all the words that you're saying, man they don't mean nothing

You gonna blame it on me?

There comes a time, when you gonna find what you were made of Flesh & blood or just the stuffing, that they filled you full of

And all the while yes the world, yes it keeps on turning You gonna blame it on...

Blame it on me, yeah. Blame it on me. (4x)
