

Interval

The Joy Formidable

Don't think about it
It's a crossroad for me
Just look around and
It's an interval before I leave

Something's in the way, something's in the way
Dragging at my feet, dragging at my feet
Shifting in the sand
Something that I said, something that I said hit the nerve again
Hit the nerve again and the nerve is gone

Don't think about it
It's a crossroad for me
Just look around and
It's an interval before I leave

If you feel lost
Under bright skies
See through me
Every second chance, every broken word feeds the heat

Something's in the way, something's in the way
Dragging at my feet, dragging at my feet
Shifting in the sand
Something that I said, something that I said hit the nerve again
Hit the nerve again and the nerve is gone

Don't think about it
It's a crossroad for me (And nothing's out)
Just look around and
It's an interval before I leave

Every step
Barefoot again
Across the edge of me I've slipped each side

Don't think about it
It's a crossroad for me
Just look around and
It's an interval before I leave

Don't think about it
Just look around
It's an interval before I leave
