

Used to Be in Love

The Jungle Giants

You could be my little dream, I'll read you like a magazine
While we're bored and while we're young, the viewing is easy
But I was at the first to come to realise what I hadn't done
Something I caught in a gun for something so easy

Oh, my heart stitched love

Used to be in love but you ran off
Used to get in love but you ran away
Frozen to the feeling when you backed up
You took my heart and you ran away

Mirror this, I'll write your name, leave a little message too
Eyes are shining diamond blue, make heaven come closer to you
And when you finally come down to realise what you hadn't found
If there's anything like solid ground, don't let it go sound

Oh, my heart stitched love

Used to be in love but you ran off
Used to get in love but you ran away
Frozen to the feeling when you backed up
You took my heart and you ran away
Used to be in love but you ran off
Used to get in love but you ran away
Frozen to the feeling when you backed up
You took my heart and you ran away

Used to be in love but you ran off
Used to get in love but you ran away
Frozen to the feeling when you backed up
You took my heart and you ran away

Used to be in love
Used to be in love
