Give It Time

The Kite String Tangle

And I can see it rising in your chest
It's hard to breathe
You're just trying to claim your space on this tapestry
The thoughts are settled in your head and they won't leave
The thoughts that tell you who you are and who you should be

Falling from these heights
We get faded out of sight
Thought of all you tried
Too low to see the line

But give it time
I know there's nothing I can say
You just need to get away
And I'm down for that
But give it time
Soon this will seem so long ago
Because there's a high to every low
And you're mine

When you're sitting at the top you see so clearly
And getting closer as you plummet to reality
And reaching for the pills
Because man that's some quick relief
I guess it had to catch up with me eventually

Falling from these heights
We get faded out of sight
Thought of all you tried
Too low to see the line

But give it time
I know there's nothing I can say
You just need to get away
And I'm down for that
But give it time
Soon this will seem so long ago
Because there's a high to every low
And you're mine

Soon this will seem so long ago
Because there's a high to every low
And you're mine
And when there's nothing I can say
I'm just sliding in the way
But I'm done with that
Yes I'm done
Just give it time
Soon this will seem so long ago
Because there's a high to every low
And you're mine

Soon this will seem so long ago
And you're mine
