

Intuition (Stripped Back)

The Kite String Tangle

Are you there, can you hear me?
It's quiet on your line
Voice is soft
Say you're thinking
Been thinking for some time

The longer you wait
The longer this takes
We both know the time is now
So say it, cos I'm listening
We'll get through somehow

Sitting in silence
You know what to do
The hardest decision
The quietest room

Spent so long wishing
It wasn't the truth
Trust my intuition
Cos I think I knew

I'm still here
Like you should be
While you're at your sisters house
Let me work through the changes
I know that this may take a while

The words that you say
Get lost on the way
You know I can't hear them now
So say it, that you're hurting
That I'll get through somehow

Sitting in silence
You know what to do
The hardest decision
The quietest room

Spent so long wishing
It wasn't the truth
Trust my intuition
Cos I think I knew

Spent so long
Spent so long
Spent so long with you
Spent so long
Spent so long
Spent so long with you

Spent so long (wishing)
Spent so long
Spent so long (wishing)
