The Kite String Tangle

I'm strong enough but I still need your love
Tell me that you want me to stay
I had it figured out but I'm wiser now
You'll always be the one that got away
The one that got away

It feels like the beginning of the end
I'm not the person that I thought I would have been
I need a second chance to do this all over (it's over)
Repelling that which should attract like we're polar

I'm strong enough but I still need your love
Tell me that you want me to stay
I had it figured out but I'm wiser now
You'll always be the one that got away
The one that got away

You never strayed off course, can you show me how?
Teach me how to catch myself before I run aground
I need a second chance to do this right over (it's over)
Repelling that which should attract like we're polar

I'm strong enough but I still need your love
Tell me that you want me to stay
I had it figured out but I'm wiser now
You'll always be the one that got away
The one that got away

I'm strong enough but I still need your love
Tell me that you want me to stay
I had it figured out but I'm wiser now
You'll always be the one that got away
The one that got away

I had it figured out
I'm sure enough
I had it figured out
You'll always be the one that got away

I'm strong enough
I had it figured out
I'm sure enough
I had it figured out
You'll always be the one that got away
The one that got away
