

Real Life

The Knocks

It's a real reason, it's a real life
It's a real reason, it's a real life
It's a real reason, it's a real life
It's a real reason, it's a real life

Check out all my microphones
I've got one for every room
I wanna hear, I'm gonna hear
I'm gonna make you hear me, too
So, clap your hands like a little child
You're a pillow in disguise

I don't understand a word you say, no way
Doesn't really matter, let's dance anyway

It's a real reason, it's a real life
Not a perfect moment, just a little spice
It's a real reason, it's a real life
I could be your flower, I could be your knife

Investigate all of my moves
I'm Michael Jackson in these shoes
I wanna feel, I'm gonna feel
I'm gonna make you feel it, too
So, move your body, lose your mind
You're the king of this empire

I don't understand a word you say
Doesn't really matter, let's dance anyway

It's a real reason, it's a real life
Not a perfect moment, just a little spice
It's a real reason, it's a real life
I could be your flower, I could be your knife
