

Room for You

The Knocks

Underneath the sky, I'm crawlin' out the night
And I'm lookin' at the mornin' turning' red
My head is such a mess, yeah
My heart is a home, hear you knockin' at the door
But it's filled to the roof with all my sins
I been tryina let you in, now

When the eyes on the back of your head
Start cryin' blue
You wanna put all your troubles to bed
You know I'll...

I'll make room for you
I'll make room for you
When there's no space left
And I can hardly move
I'll make room for you
I'll make room for you
When there's no more space left
And I can hardly move

I wanna free my soul, but the evening's cold
And it feels like a war that I can't win
I keep tryna let you in
I can feel the tide drownin' out my pride
And it's washin' the weight up off my chest
I'm clearin' out the mess

When the eyes on the back of your head
Start cryin' blue
You wanna put all your troubles to bed
You know I'll...

I'll make room for you
I'll make room for you
And I can hardly move
I'll make room for you
I'll make room for you
And I can hardly move

(I'll make room for you)

I'll make room for you
I'll make room for you
And I can hardly move
I'll make room for you
I'll make room for you
And I can hardly move

(I'll make room for you)
(I'll make room for you)
(I'll make room for you)
