

Crystallize

The Kolors

Tell me what it's like
Tell me how you make up new
Stories about us every night
Now I can't deny you can see
I'm done with the games that
You're playing with my mind
No one ever tried to warn me
About you, I tried to be here
For you
Didn't It?
No one could deny that
I wasted time getting back
To you even
When I was right

You never cried for days
And nights
Your tears they crystallize
You never cried for days
And now
You're gonna realize

You never cried for days
And nights
Your tears they crystallize
You never cried for days
And now
You're gonna realize
No no no

You're out of control
Your heart's a stone
I can make it alone
And now you're unaware
That I
Know how to read your mind
Devil in disguise
Now you wanna tell me the
Fears that you're hiding within inside
Now you're asking why, now
You wanna know why I can't stay with you
Only for tonight

Maybe that's too late
Maybe I must try to forget
Everything and just hit
The brakes
Maybe that's too late
Maybe I was betting too high
And I lost every single stake

You never cried for days
And nights
And now
You're gonna realize

You never cried for days
And nights
And now

You're out of control
Your heart's a stone
That I
