

Dream Alone

The Kolors

Maybe you wonder why nobody understands
Then you find out you dream alone
You dream alone
Did you believe in every single word they said
To keep you calm, to keep you down
They're gonna let you down

Then you put on that smile, and try
To live without the time you lost
Although it's wrong, so wrong
They will remind you every Single step you take
With all that weight
You dream alone, alone

What have I become my love?
Suddenly seems like I realize
That I've been dreaming about my life
Everything I don't want to recognize
Is there in the tear falling down your eye
Maybe we can talk all night about it?
Now you've got me showing you
The nightmare that I'm in
Feels like I'm waking, waking up again
From my deepest sleep
Can you dream with me?

So you put on that smile, and try
To live without the time you lost
Although it's gone, all gone
But now you don't wonder why
Nobody understands

Since you found out you dream alone, alone

What have I become my love?
Suddenly seems like I realize
That I've been dreaming about my life
Everything I don't want to recognize
Is there in the tear falling from your eye
Maybe we can talk all night about it?
Now you've got me showing you the
Nightmare that I'm in
Feels like I'm waking, waking up again
From my deepest sleep
Will you dream with me

What have I become my love?
Suddenly seems like I realize
That I've been dreaming about my life
Everything I don't want to recognize
Is there in the tear falling from your eye
Maybe we can talk all night about it?
Now you've got me showing you the
Nightmare that I'm in
Feels like I'm waking, waking up again
From my deepest sleep

Will you dream with me
