

Valley One

The K's

Inside the place where my
My dreams are sold
With head of silver and
A touch of gold
I felt the heat rising
Your eyeline
So I tried to fight the shivers back
Up my spine

And now I'm tryna keep control
I'm wasting my time
You've already won
Well blame it on time though
You'll always be fine, oh
My valley one

And I've been here for
Just a day, though
I don't wanna live but
I can't stay though
'Cos even Midas would find
It surprising, you're out here
Devising a plan for me
When I hit the ground

And now I'm tryna keep control
I'm wasting my time
You've already won
Well blame it on time though
You'll always be fine, oh
My valley one

Well I say I'm fine
You say I'm bleeding out both sides
I say I love it
I'm just on a plane home
It shouldn't be this painful
Should it?
I had to catch my flight out
To you and back to life
I'm above it
I swore I'll be alright
I know I'm bleeding out both sides
But I love it

I'm tryna keep control
I'm wasting my time
You've already won
Well blame it on time though
You'll always be fine, oh
My valley one

And now that I'm back home
I'm seeing your shadow
From anyone
I'm wasting my time though
'Cos they're nothing like

Oh my valley one
