Sometimes The Sun

The Lashes

It's been so long since I've seen your face,
Except inside of my head.
Counting down to the days till you're home,
Hoping that we'll share a bed.

Sometimes we fight about the little things,
But now they seem like such little things.
I woke up from so many dreams,
Had visions of buying diamond rings.

Sometimes the sun goes down,
Sometimes it comes back up.
I'm wondering which one you are watching now.

It's been so long since I've heard your voice,
Except inside of my head.
Waiting for your phone call to ring,
Replaying things that you said.

Sometimes we fight about the little things,
But now they seem like such little things.
I woke up from so many dreams,
Had visions of buying diamond rings.

Sometimes the sun goes down,
Sometimes it comes back up.
I'm wondering which one you are watching now.

Sometimes the sun goes down,
Sometimes it comes back up.
I'm wondering which one you are watching now.

Are you feeling just like me, Feeling down, down, down.
Wishing you were beside me nightly,
Down, down, down.
I'll keep my eyes glued to the ground.
Down, down, down.
I'll be there for your airplane touch down
Down, down, down.

Sometimes the sun goes down,
Sometimes it comes back up.
I'm wondering which one you are watching now.

Sometimes the sun goes down,
Sometimes it comes back up.
I'm wondering which one you are watching now.

Sometimes the sun goes down,
Sometimes it comes back up.
I'm wondering which one you are watching now.
