

Justice, Where Have You Been for So Many Years?

The Last Ten Seconds of Life

As your head is split open with our fists we will tap-dance in your blood as our black shoes become red shoes as the justice h as just begun

I hope you go to Hell cause I will never wash off the blood and the stains will singe as you burn and we'll slowly fall back i n love

Justice

Where have you been for so many years

I not only died but I cried inside more than a million times fo r all these years

Justice Justice

Where have you been

I not only died but I cried inside more than a million times fo
r all these years

The glee will be unstoppable with righteous blood against our b odies we will know we won

Justice

I not only cried but I died inside a million times

Justice Justice

Where have you been

I not only cried but I died inside a million times for all thes e years

the stains will singe as you burn and we'll slowly fall back i
n love

Justice where have you been
