

All My Life

The Lathums

Oh, come on
Let's take it slow
Let our bodies feel the music
'Cause we don't have that long
So let's not forget, why we're here
To show emotion, baby, have no fear
'Cause you and I were made to be
So hold me, darling, so I can see

'Cause I have spent all my life
Wondering if all this is right
And I believe that I have found my answer
So I wait for an open door
And see, I'll see just what becomes
'Cause I don't ever want to lose this feeling

So you sit back, and you sing your song
And I'll put you on my radio
I'll sit back and ponder life
And I'll think of lovely things
And I won't let the door close, no
And if it does, I'll jump straight through the window
I won't ever let it keep me down

'Cause I have spent all my life
Wondering if all this is right
And I believe that I have found my answer
So I wait for an open door
And see, I'll see just what becomes
'Cause I don't ever want to lose this feeling

'Cause I have spent all my life
Wondering if all this is right
And I believe that I have found my answer
So I wait for an open door
And see, I'll see just what becomes
'Cause I don't ever want to lose this feeling
