

Long Shadows

The Lathums

Ooh, ooh, ooh

Cast my soul to the depths of oblivion
Lead me in strife, constrain the night, Shakespearean
Tore to the earth, cascading death, when love has left
I want to die, don't want to fight, leave me behind

I'm very peculiar in my ways, God knows
So very peculiar in my ways
The fear of change, it's in my bones
It's eating out and it grips my soul

Consuming love, would you like to see
The debt you owe?
Even though my lips are moving, nothing still seems to come out
I'm lovely when it's all right now

For all it shines on, love's kind
Long shadows, long shadows
Long shadows, long shadows
Long shadows

I sense the light, the spark, the source, it's still mind burn
We'll focus slow, like light through glass, to help that turn
We'll rise through heat, into the sun, beyond the sky
And if I should fall, I'll fall with love and I'll get by

For all it shines on, love's cast
Long shadow, long shadow
Long shadow, long shadow
Long shadow, oh

Come at me from the top
Oh, I'm on time, I'm on time, I'm on time
Take my hand, sing, "We'll be free
Free of this secret lie"

Oh, my feet, the problem of the sun
Oh, I'm on time, on time, on time
Oh, my feet, the problem of the sun
Oh, I'm on time, on time, on time

Take my hand, nothing is free
Nothing is free, nothing is free
We are free, and are free
We are happy tonight
Tonight
