

Raven

The Leaves

Run you fool you got to hide
To the shore, we all go
The bird collects on winter solstice
The ones that are pure in their mind

The sun still shines but there's a shadow
We hide beneath the oceans waves
The old black raven's here to steal our souls
Close your eyes when it goes by

Have you seen it storming through the clouds
With stinging claws,
And children in it's jaw
If you feel the wind blow swiftly through the trees
Just hope you're dreaming

The sun still shines but there's a shadow
We hide beneath the oceans waves
The old black raven's here to steal our sons
Close your eyes when it goes by
