The Legendary Pink Dots

If God was egg, if six were nine... If time was never measured, only killed in pleasure gardens of our making. If we'd never taken a nything, but only given... If we could forgive, forget and rearrange the patterns.
If you'd never thrown a stone or split the atom - ate the apple
... if...
If I'd stayed alone in shackles feeling nothing, seeing nothing in my head... If we'd shared instead of just collecting. If we'd neve r lived...
If... If we'd ever... If we never never, never land but fly wit hout a destination, cry without a cause, and lose ourselves for just a second at the beauty of it all... Then maybe in the next life we'd be dol phins.
