

Ghost Run Free

The Lemon Twigs

Clouds of gold, leaves of brown
Cosmic echoes all around
Cradled in waves of dream
Living spirit

Somebody's waiting for me
Trapped in the places that I can't see
No one dares let a ghost run free who nobody knows
Somebody's waiting for me
Trapped in the places that I can't see
No one dares let a ghost run free who nobody knows
Who nobody knows

Crystal eyes, flower hair
Wonder if they're really there
Wings of love flying free
Every moment

Somebody's waiting for me
Trapped in the places that I can't see
No one dares let a ghost run free who nobody knows
Somebody's waiting for me
Somebody's waiting for me
Trapped in the places that I can't see
And I can't see you, though I try
No one dares let a ghost run free who nobody knows
Who nobody knows

And the sun shone on the children with glee
The light of the world was staying hidden from me
But I could remind you
But I don't really want to

Somebody's waiting for me
Somebody's waiting for me
Trapped in the places that I can't see
And I can't see you all my life
No one dares let a ghost run free who nobody knows
Somebody's waiting for me
Nobody knows
Trapped in the places that I can't see
Nobody knows
No one dares let a ghost run free who nobody knows
Who nobody knows

Who nobody knows
Nobody knows
Nobody knows
Nobody knows
