

So Fine

The Lemon Twigs

You're so kind and you're so fine and
Now that we have spent some time
I find everything I say or do does please you

And now it's getting so hard because
You don't do me any harm but
I wanna last enough so the end will hurt me

Maybe you were just not made to be that way
I won't make I won't make you something you're not
The way I'm feeling now well I cannot maintain
I don't think, I don't think that it's a bad thought

You're so kind and you're so fine and
Now that we have spent some time
I find everything I say or do does please you

And now it's getting so hard because
You don't do me any harm but
I wanna last enough so the end will hurt me

I think it's time I finally said
What's all along been in my head
It's not fair to anyone

Everyone is trying to love
You shouldn't be lonely with me

Everyone is trying to love
You shouldn't be lonely with me

Everyone is trying to love
You shouldn't be lonely with me
