

Still It's Not Enough

The Lemon Twigs

Dawn climbs up the buildings on the east side
And I climb up the mountains at my bedside
Try to hide

Everything goes on and on and on and on
On and on and on and on

No leaves ever seared and no limbs broken
Nothing was ever enough
The days washed all clear
They were like glass
Still it's not enough

One day I will teach myself how to die
And if I can't I will know that at least I tried
Try to hide

Everything goes on and on and on and on
On and on and on and on

No leaves ever seared and no limbs broken
Nothing was ever enough
The days washed all clear
They were like glass
But still it's not enough

In my dreams I'm a star
And I own the whole building
Nothing was ever enough
In the streets, in the bar
I'm the heavyweight champion
Still it's not enough

Don't you know that everything happens that way
No leaves ever seared and no limbs broken
All your dreams and your memories are one and the same
Nothing was ever enough
All the boys and the girls they all have the same name
The days washed all clear, they were like glass
They don't know where they're going, don't know why they came
But still it's not enough

In my dreams I'm a star
On and on and on and on
And I own the whole building
On and on and on and on
Nothing was ever enough
In the streets, in the bar I'm the heavyweight champion
On and on and on and on
On and on and on and on
Still it's not enough
