

In the Margin

The Lemonheads

Loneliness is the solidarity you chose for me
Waking up to find the concord was a farce of unity
Wondering how the cohesion stole the creativity
Asking why like-
mindedness could bind a heart that could be free
Asking why like-
mindedness could bind a heart that should be free
Loneliness is the solidarity you chose for me

I'll be out here if you need to find me
I'd rather die than let your thoughts confine me
If periphery is what you give
I'll leave you in the margin
I'll leave you in the margin

All at once I saw the faces from a wall and spoke to me
Saying nothing a deluded jail of stale hypocrisy
Stupidly I left escape plans out so they could find my way
I laughed as they went past and turned to meet my Turned to meet my (Day)

I'll be out here if you want to find me
I'd rather die than let your thoughts confine me
If periphery is what you give
I'll leave you in the margin
I'll leave you in the margin

I'll be out here if you need to find me
I'd rather die than let your thoughts confine me
If periphery is what you give
I'll leave you in the margin
(While I Live)
I'll leave you in the margin
