

Burning Hate Like Fire

The Levellers

From what you say
There's no use for you
You're travelling the seams
You're burning it's true
And it isn't like you've got
Anything to start
So there's nothing to do
But everything to say

You're burning like fire
Burning hotter than hate itself
You're burning like fire
Can you heal yourself
When after all
There's you and no one else

Is this the beginning
Or is this the end
Cause we are contemplating
Sending in a friend
And if the truth doesn't matter
Or the way that you feel
Like a possessed lover
Caught beneath the wheel

You're burning like fire
Burning hotter than hate itself
You're burning like fire
Can you heal yourself

Seem alone in the dark
Thinking anxious thoughts
About sympathy and energy
All you were taught
Kiss the night
That's not what we do
There has to be something
Someone for you

You're burning like fire
Burning hotter than hate itself
You're burning like fire
Can you heal yourself
You're burning like fire
Burning hotter than hate itself
When after all
It's you and no one else
