The Lightning Seeds

In all your life to treasure there, The precious times, And times when it's hard to care. There's moments when They touch you with that magic touch, And you shine... You've she'd that skin; it's lying there. Where are you now? I hope it's heaven there. They touch you with that magic touch, And you shine... Hold on tight, And dry those eyes, And never cry, 'cause in this world, You're upside down, When you first come round. And in this world, You're upside down, When you first come round. But even when Good seems Bad, Keep trying to understand, That maybe if God's on hand, You might make it... And Oh, I miss those days. All I can say, Is I miss those days...
