

Strange Place

The Living End

Wake up
Handful of vitamins
To lift you off solid ground
Dose up
Take all the medicine
And something to wash it down

Take one for the pain
To make it go away
You do whatever you need
To make it through the fuckin' day

Well, they're telling me that the world isn't round
Yeah, you can't pay the rent so they're kicking you out
They're hiking up the interest rates
This planet's turning into a very strange place these days

Young kids
All about the ketamine
It's cheaper than a round
If you don't post
It didn't happen
Were you even there at all?
Don't know what it means to be here now

It's hurting our brain
We're not ok
The verdict is in
We're all fucking insane

Well, they're telling me that the world isn't round
Yeah, you can't pay the rent so they're kicking you out
They're hiking up the interest rates
This planet's turning into a very strange place these days
A very strange place these days

I don't believe it
I don't know how we ever ended up here
I can't imagine
What's gonna happen in the next 20 years
We'll I'm jumping off the wagon
And back on the beers

Take one for the pain
Three times a day
Wake up tomorrow morning
And it's still the fucking same

Well, they're telling me that the world isn't round
Yeah, you can't pay the rent so they're kicking you out
They're hiking up the interest rates
This planet's getting crazier and crazier everyday
Oh yeah, oh yeah, oh yeah, oh yeah, oh yeah

We don't have anywhere else to go
