

Wake Up The Vampires

The Living End

You are beautiful but you will die
There's no right time to say goodbye
There's a battle raging in my head
And the peacekeeper's on strike again

Every flower is gonna die
The law of nature always decides
There's a battle raging in my head
And the peacekeepers on strike again

Wake up all the vampires
As the sunrise
Everyone's out for blood
Wake up all the vampires
And realize
That everyone's out for blood

You are like a burning cigarette
Slow down and draw another breath
There's a battle raging in your head
And the peacekeepers on strike again

Wake up all the vampires
As the sunrise
Everyone's out for blood
Wake up all the vampires
And realize
That everyone's out for blood

Everyone's out for blood
Everybody's on the run
I'm just looking out my window
It's such a lovely day
Now I see the people praying
And I hear what they are saying
Don't make plans for tomorrow
Because hell is on its way
