

The Restless

The Lone Bellow

There you are in the kitchen
Hidin' whiskey is the cupboard
Countin' every second
Between the lightnin' and the thunder

You always keep your bags packed
Your window cracked, your TV on
Only when the storm comes do you feel like,
Like there's nothing wrong?

Oh, the restless, how do I get through
Did the weight of the world break you right in two
I know you got your heart tucked
But try to keep your head up
Oh, the restless

You got your reasons, you got your power
Change the seasons from hour to hour

When you cast your spell, far away stare
The earth moves right on queue
Only when the storm comes do you feel like,
What a beautiful view?

Oh, the restless, how do I get through
Did the weight of the world break you right in two
I know you got your heart tucked
But try to keep your head up
Oh, the restless

is it too late, is it too late to change your mind?
is it too late, is it too late to change your mind?
i think about it all the time
i think about it all the time

Oh, the restless, how do I get through
Did the weight of the world break you right in two
I know you got your heart tucked
But try to keep your head up
Oh, the restless
Oh, the restless
