

Are You Afraid Of The World?

The Lonely Forest

Are you afraid of the world?
Hatred, war, disease
Not everything reflects love
Not everything brings me joy...

Danger lurks in the dark soul
As we fight through the thick vines
I caught a glimpse of life
Through the clouds, a simple outline.

Are you afraid of the world?
Is this out of your control?

I won't believe, I won't let my soul go
Until you prove to me, that I won't die alone.

We sailed into land afar,
Leaving the world we had known
In the name of science we believed
Purposeful and headstrong

Only now can I decide
To take my life and make it mine
Had I lived my life before?
Sleeping on the forest floor...

Are you afraid of the world?
Is this out of your control?

I won't believe, I won't let my soul go
Until you prove to me, that I won't die alone.

God will you answer me? Call to me? Something?
Reach out and hold the world, steady the shaking.
Your creation is drowning, slowly we breathe in
Like sheep to the slaughter we're blind!

Are you afraid of the world?
