The Loved Ones

I've been breaking promises in the dark You've been doubting everything in the time we spend apart We knew this was a gamble from the start Now we've been trying everything just keep our hearts If it all burns down, if it all just blows away I swear I'll love you to 'til the end If it all burns down and you don't come around I'll be your friend I'm sweating all alone here in the dark Are you sleeping soundly all the nights we spend apart? We knew this was a gamble from the start And now I'm trying everything, just to keep your heart If it all burns down, if it all just blows away I swear I'll love you to 'til the end If it all burns down and you don't come around I'll be your friend I swear I'll love you to 'til the end If it all burns down and you don't come around I'll be your friend I'll love you 'til the end What I live and what I learn What we build and what we burn I'll love you 'til the end What I live and what I learn What we build and what we burn I'll love you 'til the end I'll love you 'til the end

I'll love you 'til the end...
