

Hold On To Your Heart

The Lovemakers

You'd better hold onto your heart
Theres a girl, she's around
She listens to your songs and she starts to sing along

And she'll hold onto your hand
And you'll feel just like a man
Who's never seen the sun till the day she turned you on

And she sleeps, jungle cat
With her claws sinkin in
And the rain on her feet
Like the tears of heaven's gate and her legs, she stands..... So Tall

Hold on to your heart
If you want freedom, don't believe 'em
Once they have your heart, tear it apart

You can't remember where you are Always walking round
Head up in the clouds,
Feet don't touch the ground

Doesnt matter where you are Don't really care where you're going
As long as she is with you, man
It's just livin'

And she smiles like a queen
I'm a pawn at her feet
And her hair
It's alive with all the creatures of the night
And she laughs, she stands... So Tall
