

Where Did You Go?

The Lovemakers

He used to think himself unshakeable
Before he met this irresistible girl
From the first time that she kissed him
To the last time she undressed him
Made love so true it seemed unbreakable

Where did she go?

He finds the socialites unbearable
Champagne fashion shows a bore
Could it be they notice a void, a vast emptiness
Can't hide the loneliness inside

How fast it seems all of your dreams shattered, broken

Where did you go, my love?
When I've been waiting here for so long
Where did you go, my love?
I gave my love away and now its gone

He used to think himself unshakeable
But how his mind has gone astray
How many nights gone wasted
On one way conversation?
Is this the one sickness incurable?

Where did you go, my love?
When I've been waiting here for so long
Where did you go, my love?
I gave my love away and now its gone
