

Amazing Air

The Lovin' Spoonful

Amazing air, beautiful night
Softer than diamonds
Blacker than white

Your children sing
Seeds have been sown
We're all here together
So let's all call it home

If we confess that we spend less
With peace of mind and tenderness
Then even if I pass you, in the night
With one last breath of life
Could we still say the words to set us free
And let all men with evil hearts beware

Say a prayer once in a while
Pray for tomorrow or somebody's child
This gives the life that we possess
Worth everything and tenderness
So cast the rain with us into the sea
Tear down the walls of fear and pride
Let's build a world with love inside
Where all good men with peaceful hearts believe, believe

We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
We can be happy now we can be free
We can be anything we wanna be
