

Can't Help Myself

The Luka State

Your eyes spill the longest lies
Looking into mine
And I don't get it, I don't get it now
Your spiteful tongue will only do you wrong
So it's time to make a change

Whilst you're still here
It only burns my head

After all this time
I can't be forgiven
I can't forgive you
After all this time
After all this time
I need to see this through
I can't help myself

You need to meet your personality
A realistic check upon reality
'Cause no one acts like you

I can't say that you are ever gonna change
Only if you learn from your mistakes
But not up in my time

Whilst you're still here
It only burns my head

After all this time
I can't be forgiven
I can't forgive you
After all this time
After all this time
I need to see this through
I can't help myself

After all this time
I can't be forgiven
I can't forgive you
After all this time
After all this time
I need to see this through
I can't help myself
I can't help myself
I can't help myself

Ah, stop telling me over
Telling me over
Yeah