

Runnin' Out

The Magic Numbers

Time lies awake through the night
If it calls, you can't hide anymore
Fear leaves you broken
It's clear that the voice that you hear is not yours
And now you're waking up

You know that I could never ever wanna love again
Better watch out, better watch out, if I'm gonna, if I'm gonna
You know that I could never ever wanna love again
Better watch out, better watch out, if I'm gonna, if I'm gonna

Burn all the money you earn
There's a chance you might learn who you are
And your lies keep you covered at night
Throw your hands if you'd like to get off

You know that I could never ever wanna love again
Better watch out, better watch out, if I'm gonna, if I'm gonna
You know that I could never ever wanna love again
Better watch out, better watch out, if I'm gonna, if I'm gonna run

Ooh, running out of love, running out of love
Running out of love, running out, ooh, ah, ooh
Is it the wrong kind of love? Running out of love
Running out of love, running out, ooh, ah, ooh

And you told me that you wanted to go
Would it hurt you then maybe you'd know
What it feels like?

It doesn't matter, I never really mattered at all
It doesn't matter, I never really mattered at all
It doesn't matter, I never really mattered at all

Words choose to hide what they mean
It's not what you believe with your eyes
Are you gonna watch me throw it all away?
I keep losing this game, baby, you can take it all

You know that I could never ever wanna love again
Better watch out, better watch out, if I'm gonna, if I'm gonna
You know that I could never ever wanna love again
Better watch out, better watch out, if I'm gonna, if I'm gonna run

Ooh, running out of love, running out of love
Running out of love, running out, ooh, ah, ooh
Is it the wrong kind of love? Running out of love
Running out of love, running out, ooh, ah, ooh

And you told me that you wanted to go
Would it hurt you then maybe you'd know
What it feels like?

It doesn't matter, I never really mattered at all
It doesn't matter, I never really mattered at all
It doesn't matter, I never really mattered at all

You know that I could never ever wanna love again
You know that I could never ever wanna love again
