

Cadillac

The Marcus King Band

My Cadillac is more than that, it's my resting place
My heart can heal behind a wheel
She knows my fate
With these keys, I find my peace
Old 8-track tape
Marry me in Tennessee in maple-tree shade

Don't wake me up, I'm just sleeping
Tell everyone that I'm dreaming again
Nothing keeps my scars from bleeding
Will you come home when my heartbreak stops beating?

Road ahead is in my head, meanders me home
My body's numb and you'll become the first one to know
It's getting dark and I'm in park, at least I'll go slow
Bury me in melodies to sink me back home

Don't wake me up, I'm just sleeping
Tell everyone that I'm dreaming again
Nothing keeps my scars from bleeding
Will you come home when my heartbreak stops beating?

Should have known I'd go alone
But that's for the best
So now I wait in my V8 for my final rest
