

Paranoia

The Marías

Oh, it's Valentine's Day in the city
Riding in the backseat, come lay with me

Heavy on my mind every time you cry
Don't know what to do, I sit and stare at you

If in the morning, I am with you
And in the evening, I am there
And if it's you that's always waiting
Kissing the flowers in my hair
Why do you think I have another
When you have always been the one?
Your paranoia is annoying
Now all I wanna do is run away

Here I am, but you never seem to notice
Let's take a walk, I wanna talk again

Heavy on my mind every time you cry
Tell me what to do, can't get through to you

If in the morning, I am with you
And in the evening, I am there
And if it's you that's always waiting
Kissing the flowers in my hair
Why do you think I have another
When you have always been the one?
Your paranoia is annoying
Now all I wanna do is run

Away
Yeah, I keep running away
I keep running, I keep running, I keep running away
I keep running, I keep running, I keep running away
I keep running, I keep running, I keep running away
I keep running, I keep running, I keep running away