

Poseedora de mi sombra

The Mars Volta

Careful which one you lose
Careful tonight
The red day and nights

That voice in the night
Was in the knives
That voice in the night
Was in the knives
Just look away, look away
That voice in the night
Was in the knives

You should not have had to jump ship when you did
But you did
They keep on finding ways to try and make you cave
Please don't cave

Remnants of a name only you'd remember
Don't say it cause it happens every time
What festers in your heart
When they lost you as a child
And you never wanted them to look away (Just look away)
Now the time has come for us to look away
And we all stand facing you just look away
Just look away
