

The Time Has Come

The Marshall Tucker Band

We, we took our love for granted
It seems like a lot of people do
I hardly ever see you anymore
What's been happening with you

Oh, the time has come
Oh, the time has come
Because I heard a few things about you

And I bet most of them are probably true
And the time has come for me to say
The time has come to go our separate ways
And the sun's gonna shine on both of us some day
But it'll never shine on us while we're together

And the time has come for me to say
The time has come to go our separate ways
And the sun's gonna shine on both of us some day
But it'll never shine on us while we're together

I don't know how things went wrong along the way
But it really don't matter who cares it's too late anyway
That feeling it ain't there anymore
Hope you're happy 'cause I mean that for sure

And the time has come for me to say
The time has come to go our separate ways
And the sun's gonna shine on both of us some day
But it'll never shine on us while we're together

Say bye-bye
Bye-bye
Bye-bye
Bye-bye
