

Born to Make a Sound

The Material

There's no time for mistakes
Cause it's slipping away
Even know it might be easier
I won't give in now

Run as fast as I can
Feel it's not in my plans
Even know it might be easier

Take control, you know it's all in your hands
Break the load, you know that this is your chance
I won't give up, even when I'm falling down
I'm striving up to fight back
When I hit the ground
I'll trust my heart,
Even when it falls apart
Won't let it run
Cause I know I was born
Born to make a sound

And I won't settle in to this life that I live
Even know it might be easier, not so in sound
No I can't cause it's dark
I was creating for more
Even know it might be easier

Take control, you know it's all in your hands
Break the load, you know that this is your chance
I won't give up, even when I'm falling down
I'm striving up to fight back
When I hit the ground
I'll trust my heart,
Even when it falls apart
Won't let it run
Cause I know I was born
Born to make a sound

Of all the things at stake
I won't just run in place
Watching my life pass me by
Just waiting to grow old
And the fire burns inside
It's keeping me alive
Do anything I never done
I'm here to make a sound
I'm here to make a sound

Take control, you know it's all in your hands
Break the load, you know that this is your chance
I won't give up, even when I'm falling down
I'm striving up to fight back
When I hit the ground
I'll trust my heart,
Even when it falls apart
Won't let it run
Cause I know I was born
